Solons Slow To Give LBJ Quick Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—It has been nine days since President Johnson appeared before Congress to urge the quickest possible action on civil rights and tax cut bills as a tribute to the late President Kennedy.

He followed that appeal with a wide-ranging series of conferences, statements and telephone calls, all part of the technique he made famous in six years as Senate majority leader.

Has the result been to improve prospects for the two bills or to advance the time when final passage may be expected?

The answer appears to be that there is not much change, certainly not the dramatic improvement looked for by some avid supporters of the measures.

The timetable for Senate Finance Committee action on the $11 billion tax cut has been speeded up slightly. But the House Rules Committee still plans no sessions on civil rights until next month.

Before Kennedy's assassination, Democratic congressional leaders were strongly confident both bills eventually would become law, the tax bill without too much trouble but civil rights only after a bitter fight. They say the outlook is about the same now.

Senate leaders had given up hope for passage of the tax bill in their branch this year. This has proved realistic.

House leaders had been pushing for floor debate on civil rights in December. They redoubled their efforts under Johnson's prodding but the chances for any action before January now appear very slim.

Johnson has succeeded, however, in getting some more specific pledges of action from those in a position to hold up the bills. This may help prevent further delays.

Some legislators believe that the new president's extensive congressional experience may enable him to shape a successful compromise viewed as essential to win passage of civil rights. They point out he played this role in the angry debates over the 1957 and 1960 bills on the subject.

Pope To Travel To Israel Jan. 4

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI will leave Rome for the Holy Land on Jan. 4 and will return Jan. 6, the Vatican Press Office announced today.

The announcement today gave no details of the Pope's itinerary. Nor did it say where he would be lodged there.

It was assumed he would spend one night in the old city of Jerusalem, which is occupied by Jordan, and one night in Nazareth, in Israel.

In announcing his trip to the Vatican Ecumenical Council Wednesday, the Pope said he wanted to visit the places where Christ was born, lived and died. All of those shrines are in Jordanian territory except Nazareth.

Ohio Solons Plan To End Session

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The legislature hopes to go home today. If so, it will have wound up its resumption of the 1963 legislative session in five days.

Until today, many lawmakers were convinced they would have to come back next week. But now leaders say hopefully that things seem to be falling into place.

The House was to take up the bill which authorized spending of more than half the money from the $250 million capital improvements bond issue approved Nov. 5 by Ohio voters. This bill also would okay encumbering highway, highway safety and other state funds.

As it came out of the Senate Thursday, without a negative

Mt. Gilead Oil Drilling To Resume

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state resumed issuing oil drilling permits today after a temporary cut-off Wednesday caused some consternation in Mount Gilead, center of the Morrow County boom.

The cut-off came because of a rush of applications and temporary absence of the chief of the Ohio Division of Mines, who must sign the permits.

The rush for applications followed introduction of legislation which would provide for spacing of wells. The bill moved toward final action in the General Assembly.

T. C. "Hack" Wilson, assistant chief of the Division of Mines, denied reports the oil boom was in danger of being interrupted or that issuance of permits had been stopped permanently.

"We expect to get Dec. 4 applications issued today," Wilson said. By the first of next week the rest should be issued, he added.

The emergency proposal in the legislature, already passed by the Senate, would become law immediately and would provide authority for regulation of the greater spacing of well sites.

Wilson said about 10,000 barrels of oil are being taken out of Morrow County daily.

Murder Suspects Objects of Hunt

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police and FBI agents continued today to hunt for two 19-year-old murder suspects from Kentucky believed to be in this area.

The search shifted here after a car identified with the suspects was found parked on a street. Until then, the search for George Bryant and Ray Napier both of Madison County, Ky. had centered near Hillsboro, Ohio.

The FBI said the youths are wanted in connection with the Nov. 17 shooting of Richard A. Masters Jr.

vote, the bill would authorize $157.4 million in appropriations.

Representatives guaranteed appearance of a $500 million highway bond issue on the May 5 primary ballot by adding their approval (118-8) Thursday to that given by senators Wednesday.

Today, senators prepared to come to grips with a House-approved measure which would allow Ohio to participate in the federal program of Aid to Dependent Children of the Unemployed until mid-1965.

Also before the Senate are House-passed measures authorizing:

—Construction, in cooperation with metropolitan housing authorities, of "Golden Age" housing for qualified state mental patients.

—Use of about $8 million of Ohio's nearly $44 million liquor profits each year for research centers and other facilities.

The appropriation measure is the type sometimes called a "pork barrel" bill because of each lawmaker's desire to provide as well as he can for the area he represents.

Intended to provide for higher education, needy school districts, conservation - recreation, maintenance of state buildings and other functions, the measure started out at $19,965,500 but was almost $37.5 million higher in total when it came out of the Senate Thursday.

Soviets Plead Anew with Chinese Reds

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Communist party today renewed its plea to Red China to cease open polemics and try to settle Soviet - Chinese differences in private talks.

The party organ Pravda complained in a special editorial that the bitter quarrel "has gone too far and in many instances overstepped the standards of relations between fraternal parties."

"Of course the differences within the Communist movement are serious," the newspaper said. "But one should not dramatize the situation either, or regard it as irreparable."

Pravda said the Soviet party was continuing to work toward a settlement of the Moscow Peking dispute "and is under taking steps of vast importance for this."

The editorial repeated Soviet proposals to meet privately to discuss the quarrel and prepare the ground for a world meeting of Communist parties.

Pravda clearly indicated the warring Communist giants had made no progress in recent months toward resumption of the bilateral talks held here last summer.

The party voice also hinted the Russians are prepared for a long period of waiting confident that time will wear down the Chinese opposition.

Churches Push Civil Rights

Quick Congress
Action Is Urged

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The National Council of Churches pushed ahead today on several fronts for immediate civil rights action.

Participants, observers and visitors at the triennial general assembly set out for Washington by bus to urge their congressmen to sign a discharge petition to free civil rights bills from the House Rules Committee.

The 840 voting delegates remained behind to take up a resolution calling for complete desegregation of churches and a message to the churches which embraces civil rights among other things.

The trip to Washington was to support a resolution, adopted Thursday by an overwhelming voice vote, calling on Congress to pass the civil rights legislation quickly and to use the discharge petition, a rare parliamentary maneuver, if necessary.

A council official said participants were going ahead with the trip despite assurances by Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va., chairman of the Rules Committee, of action on the bills next month.

House Democratic leaders have said they will introduce the discharge petition Monday. Signatures of 218 congressmen would be needed to by-pass the committee.

The council's second civil rights resolution called on the churches specifically to declare open membership, to engage in interracial activities with other churches, and to inquire about the policies of companies and enterprises with which churches do business.

The council is the cooperative federation of 31 Protestant and Eastern Orthodox denominations with a total of 40 million members in the United States. The assembly ends Saturday.

Christine Is Handed Term in Jail

LONDON (AP)—Christine Keeler, female star of the sex scandal which almost wrecked a British government, pleaded guilty to charges of perjury and conspiracy today and was sentenced to nine months in prison.

Tears welled up in the eyes of the 21-year-old redhead as Judge Sir Anthony Hawke pronounced sentence in Old Bailey.

Her girl friend, Paula Hamilton - Marshall, 23, who also pleaded guilty, drew a six-month term.

Their housekeeper, Mrs. Olive Brooker, 56, was placed on probation. She also had pleaded guilty to perjury and conspiracy.

In effect the three women admitted they conspired to frame a Negro ex-lover of Christine, Jamaican jazz singer Aloysius (Lucky) Gordon, and then lying on the stand at Gordon's trial last June on charges of beating the girl.

Gordon's three-year sentence was quashed by an appeal court after it heard a lengthy tape recording Christine had made in preparing her life story for publication. The police then arrested Christine and the other three and accused them of framing Gordon.

Citizenship Asked On 100th Birthday

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—Lati-mar Martindale, a Briton who has spent 75 of his 99 years in the United States, has notified the government he wishes to become an American citizen on March 25, his 100th birthday.

"I want to show how much I appreciate the kindnesses and generosity that I have received in Georgia," he said.

There hasn't been much change since a year ago. A stillness descends over the harbor every Dec. 7. Even the ships—plying back and forth—seem muffled and quiet, a contrast indeed to the hell that broke loose at 7:55 a. m. on this day 22 years ago.

Solon Seeks To Follow Dad's Steps

CLEVELAND (AP)—Rep. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, today became a candidate for the U.S. Senate, where his late father gained national and international renown.

The 46-year-old Cincinnati announced his candidacy to run for the Senate seat now held by Democratic Sen. Stephen M. Young at a news conference. Young has not declared his intentions for 1964, but is expected to seek re-election.

Taft will have at least one challenger, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, for his party's nomination. Brown became a candidate Nov. 5, election night.

"My position is the same that it was when I made an announcement that I was sending out my petitions for United States Senator early in November," Brown said.

"The 1964 Republican primary is, of course—as it should be—an open one and I welcome Congressman Taft's entry into the race," the statement continued. "He brings with him the Taft name which was distinguished by his grandfather (President William Howard Taft) and his father, the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, whom I had the pleasure of knowing intimately, campaigning with and whom I respected."

Brown called for a clean campaign by both sides.

"It is my feeling that the campaign should rest upon the record of the candidates," he said. "So far as I am concerned there will be no rancor, no unwarranted 'name calling' or any acts which would in any way be distasteful to my many friends in both the Republican and Democratic parties or to Mr. Taft's friends."

The voters, Brown said, will determine who is the better man for the task.

Taft said today:

"The purpose and challenge of public office lies in its service to those represented and to the entire nation. I hope that my past legislative experience of eight years in Ohio as well as my current duties representing the entire state in the House of Representatives have equipped me to serve in the Senate."

Jury Continues To Study Slaying

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—A jury deliberating the testimony of 104 witnesses, plus 120 exhibits, goes back into a locked room today to weigh the first-degree murder charge against T. Eugene Thompson.

The six men and six women met five hours Thursday night, retiring to a hotel just before 10 p. m.

Thompson, 36, a St. Paul attorney, is accused of masterminding the slaying of his wife last March 6.

The prosecution contended the motives were Thompson's love for his former secretary, Jacqueline Olesen, and the $1,055,000 in insurance he bought on his wife in 13 months preceding the slaying.

"The purpose and challenge of public office lies in its service to those represented and to the entire nation. I hope that my past legislative experience of eight years in Ohio as well as my current duties representing the entire state in the House of Representatives have equipped me to serve in the Senate.

Jury Continues To Study Slaying

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—A jury deliberating the testimony of 104 witnesses, plus 120 exhibits, goes back into a locked room today to weigh the first-degree murder charge against T. Eugene Thompson.

The six men and six women met five hours Thursday night, retiring to a hotel just before 10 p. m.

Thompson, 36, a St. Paul attorney, is accused of masterminding the slaying of his wife last March 6.

The prosecution contended the motives were Thompson's love for his former secretary, Jacqueline Olesen, and the $1,055,000 in insurance he bought on his wife in 13 months preceding the slaying.

Remember Pearl Harbor?

PEARL HARBOR (AP)—A nation still mourning the death of its president pauses Saturday to remember another day of infamy—the bombing of Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941.

A gleaming white monument stands above the sunken battleship Arizona, the tomb for 1,102 men. Above the vessel an American flag flies at half mast.

There hasn't been much change since a year ago. A stillness descends over the harbor every Dec. 7. Even the ships—playing back and forth—seem muffled and quiet, a contrast indeed to the hell that broke loose at 7:55 a. m. on this day 22 years ago.

On this Dec. 7, one thing is different from all anniversary days since the end of World War II.

It is the flag—at half mast for the first time this Pearl Harbor Day. The hundreds of people who cross the harbor to pay a brief tribute and drop a garland of flowers on the water will remember in their prayers one more young, dead American.

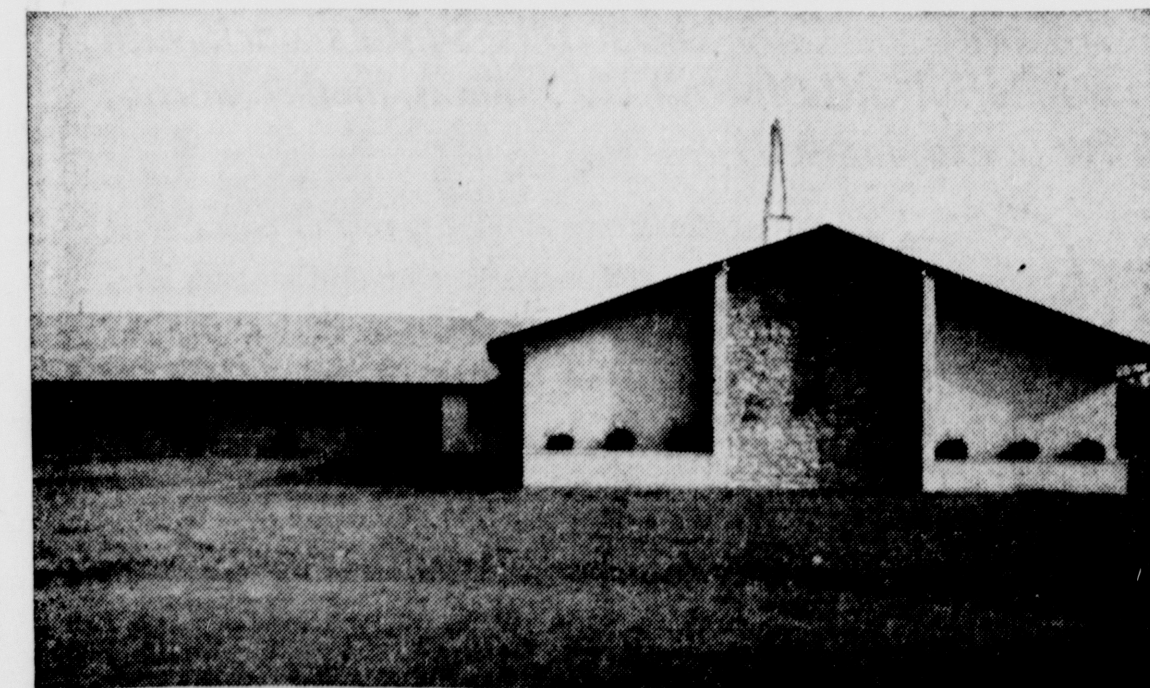

It is for him—a World War II Navy lieutenant who fought in the Pacific—that the flag flies low.

The man is John Fitzgerald Kennedy, victim of an assassin's bullet two weeks ago.

The Arizona—symbol of the 1941 Japanese bombing—is the only one of nine battleships attacked still in commission.

She is considered commissioned because the crew is still aboard. That is why the flag flies above the sunken vessel.

The Navy does not hold official ceremonies to mark Pearl Harbor Day. But to the men and women on the naval base, and to those on ships in port, Dec. 7 retains its deep significance. Many travel to the memorial independently to pay tribute to the 2,300 sailors, soldiers, Marines and civilians who died in a few nightmare hours.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH ADDITION — This new wing (right) of the local First Baptist Church will be formally dedicated Sunday afternoon. A ribbon cutting ceremony will be conducted during morning services and the dedication observance will start at 2:30 in the afternoon. A reception will follow the dedication service. The public is invited.

Santa and the Haunted House

By LUCRICE BEALE

Synopsis: The Storyteller told how Nog, the Bugaboo, made a shambles of Santa Land and how Santa decided he couldn't keep him there any longer.

CHAPTER FOUR NOG COMES TO POO

The Storyteller stood up and stretched his legs. He stared for a long time into the fire as if he had forgotten the story he was telling. The children waited until golden-haired Sissy could stand it no longer.

"What did the Queen Fairy and Santa do with him?" she cried. "What did they do with old bad Nog?"

"They threw him out of Fairyland," said the Storyteller staring into the fire.

"Oh, my!" breathed Miss Jo. "That must have been awful!"

Yes, said the storyteller. It had never been done before. No elf or fiend or witch or any other fairy creature had ever been expelled from the Magic Land of Make Believe. And Nog did not think the Fairy Queen would have the courage to do it to him.

But Santa said to the Queen, "You must send him out of our world, take away all his rights and forbid him ever again to enter Storybook Land."

"I hereby expel you from my kingdom."

"You can't do that!" shouted Nog.

"But I can," said the Queen, for she knew she had to or this one wicked creature would destroy all the good that fairies had done since time began. She waved her wand and said sadly, "I hereby expel you from my kingdom. Leave here and never return."

Nog turned on Santa and waved his fists. "It's all your doing," said Santa. "And perhaps you will be happier in another world."

"This is my world," shouted Nog. And "I'll be back one day and I, not you, will give the orders then. Mark my words!"

He stamped his foot three times to show his rage. Then he turned and marched away.

"Where did he go?" cried Miss Jo.

The Storyteller turned and stared at her as if he had just awakened from a long sleep. "What?" he asked.

"Where did Nog go?" cried Sissy and Jeremy together.

"To the Kingdom of Poo," said the Storyteller.

"Poo!" cried Jeremy.

"This Poo?" exclaimed Sissy. The Storyteller nodded. "The very same."

"He's here now?" gasped Sissy.

The Storyteller nodded again.

Ohio School Expert Hit In Delaware

DOVER, Del. (AP) — Delaware's Senate Investigating Committee has decided to look into the appointment of an Ohioan as state superintendent of public instruction.

State Sen. Walter J. Hoey, who ordered the probe, said Wednesday that the State Board of Education flouted several laws in the appointment of Dr. Richard P. Gousha, 40, superintendent of schools at Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio.

Gousha was selected from among more than 50 applicants for the post in which he will receive a reported salary of $20,000 a year. Hoey said, among other things, that the state budget provides only $17,000 a year.

Hoey and other members of the General Assembly also poked fun at the appointment on grounds that at least one Delaware educator was qualified for the job.

The Senate committee said part of its investigation will include sending three men to Cuyahoga Falls to see what information they can obtain there.

NEW YORK (AP)—The television circle turns, and all the signs indicate that programming is moving toward a new period of emphasis on light escape entertainment.

"A few seasons ago we were in the beach-boy phase," said Daniel Melnick, partner of David Susskind in the producing company, Talent Associates. "That was the heyday of the 'Hawaiian Eyes,' the 'Surfside Sixes' and 'Adventures in Paradise.'"

It was followed by what Melnick calls "the neo-realism" phase, which he thinks got a foothold with the old half-hour "Naked City" programs and then moved on to peak out this season with the freshest of social dramas — "The Defenders," "East Side, West Side," "Mr. Novak," and the medical and psychiatry shows.

"Now we've got to move and it probably will be to themes combining the romantic with comedy," Melnick said. "We would probably have moved to it sooner, but the big problem of television is that we have a tendency to hold on too long to something that has proved popular."

Entertainment programs age rapidly, but at a rate that depends on the quality of the writing and on the style and interest of the leading man Melnick, 33, said. Generally, the active life of a dramatic show is about three seasons; of a comedy, four.

CBS, notable for its lack of enthusiasm for color broadcasting, will use it this year—as NBC has done every year—to cover the Tournament of Roses parade on New Year's Day.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two questions persist about President Johnson after only two weeks in office: How is he doing? How will he do?

He became president in a time of national shock over President John F. Kennedy's assassination. The shock remained until after the funeral.

Until then Johnson could do little. Then he went to work if energy, earnestness, zeal and attention to the job count, he got it.

He addressed Congress and He addressed Congress and the nation on television and radio, met endlessly with top foreign visitors, government officials, congressional leaders of both parties, and leaders in the fields of business, labor and civil rights.

Meanwhile he had to worry about the budget—next year's estimate of government spending—which he must offer Congress in January. He has had a number of conferences on the budget. Kennedy had worked on it since August.

So far Johnson has announced these domestic goals: He wants Congress to pass Kennedy's civil rights and tax cut programs; he wants to reduce government spending; and he wants job: increased by 5 million—to a goal of 75 million, although he set no date.

Johnson has taken over and backed, without deviation, Kennedy's programs. His talks to Congress and the nation made an excellent impression. But Congress always was Kennedy's biggest bottleneck.

Johnson, in Congress far longer than Kennedy, knows its people and workings better. As Senate leader before becoming vice president he set an extraordinarily good record.

Nevertheless, after two weeks of talking and pressuring Congress, the same opponents of civil rights and tax cut who blocked Kennedy show no signs of going faster for Johnson.

If Johnson had hoped to get off to a blazing start by getting at least one of those programs through before Jan. 1, he's wrong. He's probably too realistic to think he could do it that soon.

Johnson, since taking office has hammered away at cutting spending. But his budget estimate in January may run between $98 billion and $103 billion, or probably close to what Kennedy would have figured on.

Kennedy's budget this year was $98.8 billion. If Johnson tries to gouge chunks out of the budget to demonstrate his economy-mindedness, he could stall national progress and stability.

Negro leaders, after talking with Johnson, praised his earnestness about wanting a strong civil rights bill passed. It's to his advantage to get a strong one through.

That, plus a tax cut, would boost his 1964 election chances, as he knows. Success with both of them might make him look more effective than Kennedy, particularly if he could get them through early in 1964.

House Trailer Rule Change Helps Firm

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Executives of the Vindale Corp. of Brookville, Montgomery County, announced here Thursday they plan a 40,000-square-foot expansion costing between $130,000 and $200,000.

The addition was announced after Vindale officials met with Gov. James A. Rhodes and other state officials. It will be situated on the present site occupied by the company.

The announcement came after signing of a state directive governing movement of house trailers and mobile homes, by Gov. Rhodes, Highway Director P. E. Mashpter and Highway Safety Director Warren C. Nelson. It allows transportation of 12-foot mobile homes throughout the state on a permit basis.

"We had to have this change in regulations if our operations were to remain in Ohio," Vindale officials said.

ROSE BOWL QUEEN for this year's Tournament of Roses is Nancy Kneeland, 19, Pasadena, Calif., College student. This is the 75th annual New Year's Day event.

Building an 'Image'

A dispatch from Saigon reports that the United States embassy, with the blessing of Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, is pressuring Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, the leader of the military junta that overthrew President Diem and now runs the government, to get out of the palace and mix with his people in the countryside.

That is, he should go out and create a new 'image' by handshaking and kissing babies, apparently.

There is no question that what helped sink Diem was his alienation from the Vietnamese people. This made it impossible for him to understand the impact the repression of the Buddhists was having on the country.

There may be another reason why the U. S. wants to build up Minh in the eyes of his countrymen. This is the presence in the junta of another general, Ton That Dinh. He is believed to have been the main instrument in the coup d'etat and he is known to be very unstable.

Dinh has been characterized by some observers in Saigon as the "Nasser" of the junta while Minh is the "Neguib," a reference to the way the Egyptian strongman Gamel Abdel Nasser used General Neguib as the front man in a coup in 1952 but pushed him out and took control less than two years later.

Beyond this, it does seem important for the future of the war effort in Viet Nam for the government to have enthusiastic support by the populace of that troubled land. U. S. officials seem to hope touring the countryside the U. S. political style may be the answer.

Trouble for Criminals

Criminals who "talk too much" sometimes get into trouble with their pals. Now, it appears, lawmen — and electronics — soon may compound their troubles.

Under consideration is a revolutionary new system for "typing" lawbreakers by voice. Thanks to the miracles of electronics, it promises to be an even more fool-proof system of identification than fingerprints.

Then news comes too late to aid oe Valachi, whose voice already is a familiar as that of Frank Sinatra. But the day may come when all hoodlums will have to learn to write, if only to be able to put the fifth amendment down on paper and thus avoid, by reciting it orally, self-incrimination.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Washington's tit-for-tat boosting of some duties on European goods could prove to be only another skirmish rather than the heralded end of the "chicken war."

The whole field of tariff maneuvering is involved and the broader contest is about to start.

Or it could be just the innocent bystander, the American consumer, who gets hit.

There is a chance that, if the higher duties finally are allowed to stick, it could mean more of a drain on the pocketbooks of some American consumers through higher prices than a blow at the makers of French cognac, German trucks and Dutch potato starch.

That is because the French brandy producers especially are convinced that the American who fancies their product will pay the higher price resulting from the increased tariff. And French exports will continue in about the same volume.

Whether the German truck makers and Dutch producers of potato starch will find as devoted customers, or will lower prices, or seek other markets is yet to be determined. But some sort of continued skirmishing, perhaps retaliation, seems likely.

The chicken war itself started a year ago when the European Common Market boosted its tariffs on frozen chicken so high as to cut off most of the fast-growing market for American poultrymen.

The United States claimed a loss of $46 million a year. An arbitration board recently decided the loss was 26 million. Now Washington is raising tariffs on the selected European items that have an import value of relatively that sum.

France, Germany and the Netherlands, where American poultry was particularly popular, were selected as prime targets. Smaller losses are supposed to be felt by the other three members of the Common Market, Italy, Belgium and Luxembourg. The Common Market is now expected to renew its offer to cut poultry duties by 1.3 cents a pound, a sum Washington has reflected as trifling.

But more important perhaps is the squaring off of the opponents before the start in a few months of a new fund of tariff negotiations. The United States had hoped for a big tariff-cutting session of the 53-nation General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

The age of medical specialization seems to have bypassed one group that deserves highly concentrated attention. The teenage post-puberty adolescent has remained fixed in the limbo of indefinite medicine.

Recently graduated from the pediatric age, not yet having attained the status of adulthood, the adolescent remains transfixed, waiting for time to make the decision as to where he belongs in the pattern of health and illness.

During this period of the waiting game, the turbulent emotional upheavals of adolescence do not remain static while awaiting relocation. The adolescent is a seething sea of hyperactive physical and emotional responses. The delicate balance of the mind (psyche) and body (soma) is perhaps nowhere better illustrated than in the transitional growth from childhood to maturity.

Healthy adolescence is the ground installation on which is built the stable superstructure of maturity. A special investment of time, energy and interest in the total health of the adolescent will bring limitless benefits to him and to those who are deeply concerned with his well-being.

The physical and emotional needs of the adolescent are unique and sufficiently distinctive to stimulate a higher degree of medical specialization for his particular needs.

The adolescent is bombarded by a barrage of problems that seem to converge at him at a time when he is least able to handle them alone. Obesity, menstruation, acne, sexual drives, morality, limits, parental rebellion... these are only a few of the major distresses that overwhelm the adolescent.

At this, the very peak of his emotional and physical needs, the adolescent cannot be casually dismissed with a patronizing pat and the statement that "this, too, shall pass." His turbulence and confusion must be understood and dealt with.

The adolescent is in conflict. His physical maturity is not necessarily accompanied by mature intellectual and emotional responses.

Specialization in adolescent medicine may be the key to his personal happiness and well directed growth. The adolescent has a special need to "talk out" his own problems with a discerning, sympathetic listener other than his own parents.

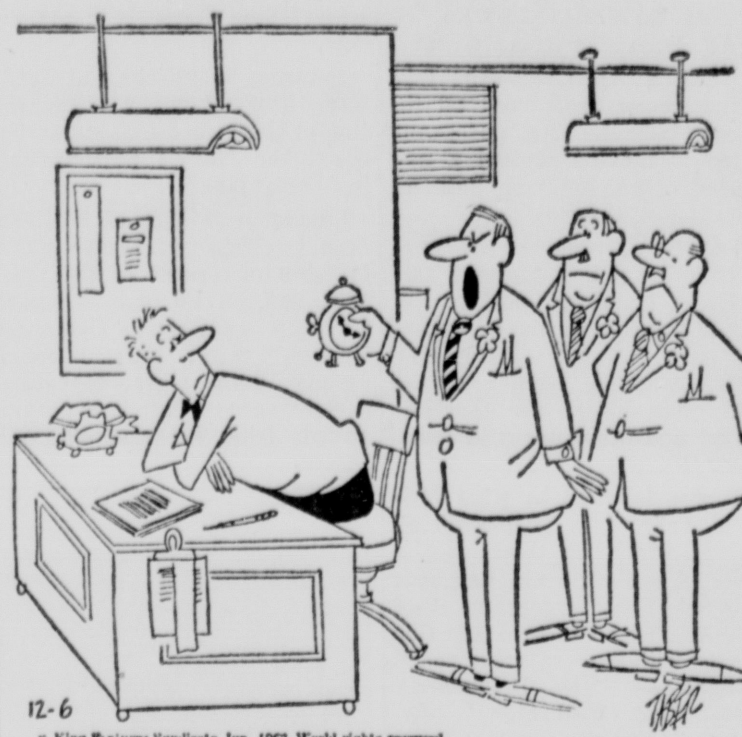

The adolescent's complaints and problems need the objective listening of his own unbiased and unprejudiced "doctor-friend." The teenager wants to graduate gracefully from his pediatrician to his own special possession, his doctor.

Some hospitals in America, appreciating this need, are beginning to reorganize their clinics and private facilities to accommodate the new specialty of Adolescent Medicine.

Doctors, aware of the special needs of the adolescents are astutely treating them with an understanding of the emotional under currents that pervade their physical complaints.

The family physician is still the greatest bulwark of support for the post-pediatric "pre-mature" adolescent. The doctor's established friendship throughout the years can uncover and resolve many of the adolescent's urgent problems.

GOODY ACE was present in a beauty parlor in Beverly Hills when a very pretty girl refused to allow the operator to restore a blonde glow to her naturally dark hair. "Your hair really needs touching up," insisted the operator, "and I assure you we can do it every bit as well as they do it back East." "Impossible," sighed the pretty girl. "I may be here in Beverly Hills, but my roots are in New York."

An overnight star, in New York for personal appearance, and staying at the Waldorf, received a call from the president of a big insurance company. "We want you to be toastmaster at our big banquet Friday night. It will be held at the Astor Hotel—just a few blocks from where you are now, so it will cause you a minimum of trouble. What will you charge?"

The overnight star, still remembering all too well how hard up he had been just a few short months before, answered, "Three thousand dollars—and CARFARE!"

Mrs. Hibbs sought her hostess to inquire, "What's become of that pretty waitress who was passing the cocktails?" "I'm sorry," apologized the hostess. "Were you looking for a drink?" "Thank you, no," said Mrs. Hibbs. "I was looking for my husband."

A Look at Milady's Handbag

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Among life's little ordeals to men are those portable moving vans women carry today and call handbags.

You know what I'm talking about, don't you? I mean those huge handbags that look like two fat alligators sewn together lengthways.

I mean those huge handbags that take up half the sidewalk as a woman strolls along and which, if they hit a man's kneecap, will snap it like a matchstick.

I mean those huge handbags in which the modern woman packs more belongings than the average pioneer mother brought along in a covered wagon to settle the Old West.

It's a funny thing about women. When they dress up fancy to go out in the evening, they tote along in their paws sequined-covered bags tiny enough to have been made from the hide of a stunted mouse.

Everything else they stuff into the pockets of their male escort—until he looks from behind like a pair of ambulant saddle bags.

But by day they limp around town by themselves, getting more bent over by these vast handbags into which they seem to have thrust everything except what they need most—a sofa to lie down and rest on.

"I need it to carry the things I simply have to have with me."

a wife usually whinnies. But if you try to peek inside, she'll snap it shut—at the peril of snipping off your nose.

Actually there isn't much mystery about the contents: They are a cross between a hope chest, - drugstore counter, and a despair kit. They are a kind of Pandora's junk box.

They hold mints, chewing gum, unpaid bills, vitamin pills and aspirin tablets, matchbooks, a 712-page romantic novel, lip stick, tweezers, bandages, compact, unanswered letters, photographs of loved ones, pieces of wadded facial tissue.

They hold car keys, house keys, safe deposit box keys. They also hold one thing at the very bottom of this jangle of debris. That's a small billfold or change purse containing their ready cash.

And that's where the trouble comes in. It usually takes a woman up to 10 minutes of frantic fumbling to find this purse and pay a restaurant bill.

She's holding up the march of progress. These big handbags must be costing the nation at least 10 million manhours of lost work a month.

Latin America Opportunity

By John Chamberlain

President Lyndon Johnson has been an adept at dealing with Congress. But since he relinquished his post as Majority Leader of the Senate some three years ago, certain legislators have become used to the delights of a loose rein. It may be that the new President will have to work on chronically rebellious Senators like Wayne Morse and William Proxmire by an extensively circuitous indirection.

Since Johnson is a clever man, he may be able to accomplish this very sort of thing. Senator Morse, to pick the most obviously recalcitrant person in the upper chamber, has, rather startlingly, taken to crusading on behalf of private American investors in Latin America. He has lectured Brazil as "the most glaring example in recent years, aside from Castro's Cuba, of expropriation of U. S. investments and repeated threats of expropriation. The inevitable result, of course, has been that some American companies in Brazil have publicly or quietly undertaken to liquidate their investments and get out, and substantial sums of American capital which would have been invested there — and should have been invested as part of the Alliance program — have never been sent. . . . If the conditions attractive to free private investment do not exist in an individual country, then Government aid invested in that country is a complete waste."

It is not only expropriation and the threat of expropriation that Senator Morse chooses to exorcise. He is also on the warpath against Latin American methods of taxing U. S. corporations at confiscatory rates. Speaking of Chile, a country which he commends for its "history of constitutional observance. . . and a complete absence of any militarism which has been a curse of so many of our Latin American neighbors," he says: ". . . in spite of all these advantages and attractive features for the foreign investor, Chile has adopted policies that strongly discourage foreign investment in her basic industry, copper."

The thing that particularly burns Morse up about Chile is its habit of cooking up separate regulations and tax rates for different categories of foreign companies. This seems to him unprincipled. Two big U. S. companies — Kennecott and Anaconda — pay from seventy to eighty-seven percent of their profits over to the Chilean government.

The Braden mine of the Kennecott company is the object of very special discrimination, for it is subject to a tax rate of fifty per cent plus a surtax of twenty-five percent, plus "two new taxes of five and eight percent respectively, to provide funds for salary increases for civil servants and the armed forces." The special taxes, Morse says, "were established as temporary levies that could be derogated by the President. They have not been derogated. . . ."

Reviewing the behavior of the Chilean government toward U. S. investors in Chile Morse has asked:

"How can we justify pouring more foreign aid into a country which is either unwilling or unable to take steps to put its own house in order? Continuing such aid is foolish, on two grounds. First Chile keeps out, by its discriminatory taxation policy, private investment money. . . . second, the U. S. taxpayers' money in Chile is not producing the benefits that it could produce. . . . because private investment money is not being placed alongside it at the same time. . . ."

Because Morse's criticisms of the actual effect of our programs for foreign aid were so telling, President Kennedy made no headway in his attempts to get Congress to restore sizeable foreign aid authorization cuts. But there is another way that might prove successful in getting senators like Morse to go along with White House foreign aid demands. If, instead of addressing himself directly to the U. S. Congress, President Johnson should patiently and successfully explain to Brazilians and Chileans that he cannot possibly help them with senators like Morse unless they help him by giving private foreign capital a break, a new chapter might yet be written in the annals of the Alliance for Progress.

The logjam must be broken in Latin America before the U. S. can be of help, and President Johnson is a man to realize it.

And, since he has had considerable contact with Latin American psychology, he may be the man to do it.

Building an 'Image'

A dispatch from Saigon reports that the United States embassy, with the blessing of Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, is pressuring Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, the leader of the military junta that overthrew President Diem and now runs the government, to get out of the palace and mix with his people in the countryside.

That is, he should go out and create a new 'image' by handshaking and kissing babies, apparently.

There is no question that what helped sink Diem was his alienation from the Vietnamese people. This made it impossible for him to understand the impact the repression of the Buddhists was having on the country.

There may be another reason why the U. S. wants to build up Minh in the eyes of his countrymen. This is the presence in the junta of another general, Ton That Dinh. He is believed to have been the main instrument in the coup d'etat and he is known to be very unstable.

Dihn has been characterized by some observers in Saigon as the "Nasser" of the junta while Minh is the "Neguib," a reference to the way the Egyptian strongman Gamel Abdel Nasser used General Neguib as the front man in a coup in 1952 but pushed him out and took control less than two years later.

Beyond this, it does seem important for the future of the war effort in Viet Nam for the government to have enthusiastic support by the populace of that troubled land. U. S. officials seem to hope touring the countryside the U. S. political style may be the answer.

Trouble for Criminals

Criminals who "talk too much" sometimes get into trouble with their pals. Now, it appears, lawmen — and electronics — soon may compound their troubles.

Under consideration is a revolutionary new system for "typing" lawbreakers by voice. Thanks to the miracles of electronics, it promises to be an even more fool-proof system of identification than fingerprints.

Then news comes too late to aid of Valachi, whose voice already is a familiar as that of Frank Sinatra. But the day may come when all hoodlums will have to learn to write, if only to be able to put the fifth amendment down on paper and thus avoid, by reciting it orally, self-incrimination.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Washington's tit-for-tat boosting of some duties on European goods could prove to be only another skirmish rather than the heralded end of the "chicken war."

The whole field of tariff maneuvering is involved and the broader contest is about to start.

Or it could be just the innocent bystander, the American consumer, who gets hit.

There is a chance that, if the higher duties finally are allowed to stick, it could mean more of a drain on the pocketbooks of some American consumers through higher prices than a blow at the makers of French cognac, German trucks and Dutch potato starch.

That is because the French brandy producers especially are convinced that the American who fancies their product will pay the higher price resulting from the increased tariff. And French exports will continue in about the same volume.

Whether the German truck makers and Dutch producers of potato starch will find as devoted customers, or will lower prices, or seek other markets is yet to be determined. But some sort of continued skirmishing, perhaps retaliation, seems likely.

The chicken war itself started a year ago when the European Common Market boosted its tariffs on frozen chicken so high as to cut off most of the fast-growing market for American poultrymen.

The United States claimed a loss of $46 million a year. An arbitration board recently decided the loss was 26 million. Now Washington is raising tariffs on the selected European items that have an import value of relatively that sum.

France, Germany and the Netherlands, where American poultry was particularly popular, were selected as prime targets. Smaller losses are supposed to be felt by the other three members of the Common Market, Italy, Belgium and Luxembourg.

The Common Market is now expected to renew its offer to cut poultry duties by 13 cents a pound, a sum Washington has reflected as trifling.

But more important perhaps is the squaring off of the opponents before the start in a few months of a new fund of tariff negotiations. The United States had hoped for a big tariff-cutting session of the 53-nation General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

Dear Abby: Too Old for the Count!

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Ten months ago I started taking piano lessons. I am 41. A few days ago my piano teacher handed me a copy of THE BLUE DANUBE WALTZ and said that was to be my recital piece. I protested, but she refused to take me seriously. I told her I'd let her know. What I want to know is, am I obligated to play in her recital?

Just what is the purpose of a recital? For whose benefit is it? The pupils' or the teacher's? I never expect to play publicly, so why should I play in a recital to "gain confidence"? I am her only adult pupil, and can't see myself in a recital with a lot of children. I've attended some of her recitals. She stands in the wings and counts. What would YOU tell her, Abby?

THINKING IT OVER
DEAR THINKING: I'd tell her not to count on me.

DEAR ABBY: A church-going neighbor of high moral character needs desperately to be told what to do with her hair. She can't afford to go to a beauty parlor, so she fixes it herself. It has been bleached until it looks like hay. And she sets it in those tight little ringlets that were popular 25 years ago. This woman has two lovely daughters who will soon be in their teens and Abby, you know when a mother looks like she is working at the oldest profession she spoils her daughters' chances for popularity. I don't know this woman well enough to tell her myself, but shouldn't somebody tell her?

GOOD NEIGHBOR
DEAR GOOD: If a friend doesn't tell her, a stranger certainly can't. Perhaps her daughters will, eventually. But if "popularity" depends on how one's mother wears her hair, who needs it?

DEAR ABBY: Would you call a party properly chaperoned if the parents are in one part of the house and the kids are in another, and they don't see each other all evening? These young folks are from 16 to 18 years of age, and their idea of a good chaperone is one who stays completely out of sight. I always thought a chaperone should make a few appearances during the evening, but I am told no other parents do this. I hate to embarrass my daughter by being different, but I think it's dishonest to assure other parents that their child's party is being chaperoned and then stay out of sight all evening. If I am wrong, please tell me.

MRS. D.
DEAR MRS. D.: No, you are right. A good chaperone needs to pop in only once to let the kids know that she may pop in at any time.

MERMAID'S PURSE—A rare sight for human eyes is this embryo swell shark, a first-of-its-kind exhibit at Marineland of the Pacific, Palos Verdes, Calif. The baby gets its food from that round yolk and oxygen from water circulated through the "purse" by the shark's own movements. When the shark is ready to hatch the case will open automatically and the shark will swim away. The ancient Greeks called the empty cases that washed ashore mermaid's purses. A swell shark is a short, wide-bodied shark that swells on breathing air.

Sponges Rate High For Home Nursing

A cellulose sponge makes a good practical nurse! Chuckle if you must, but there's a good deal of truth in this. Sooner or later, every homemaker does her share of home nursing, and the sponges rate high among necessary aids.

They are easily sanitized — boilable and machine washable; so they are ideal for sick-room cleanup jobs. Use them with a pine oil cleaner. Then they not only keep things antiseptic; they also leave a pleasantly fresh aroma — good for patient morale.

In lieu of an ice bag, a sponge wrung out in icy water will help you bring a fever down. A fresh dampened one in a bowl or the bedside table can be used for washing newsprint off fingers and for other quick cleanups.

If you have to give bed baths, a cellulose sponge wrung out in sudsy water is ideal. The sponge retains the amount of suds you want without dripping. Use a second sponge wrung out in clear water, and don't forget that a dash of baking soda added to it will be just as soothing as it is in a tub bath.

The dishes of a person who has any contagious illness should be carefully sterilized. Use a separate sponge dishmop for this, also sterilizing it frequently in boiling water.

A convalescing child can be entertained with the chance to do sponge painting with either water colors or finger paints. Assemble appropriate supplies on a sturdy bed tray and let art take his mind off confinement.

Finally, don't forget that when a siege of illness is over, there is nothing better for surface washing the mattress than a cellulose sponge wrung out in whipped mild suds. Rinse with another, and let the mattress dry in the airy room or, better still, outdoors in the sun.

Fumes Overcome 6 In Cincinnati Church

CINCINNATI (AP)—Six persons were overcome by fumes from a defective gas heater Thursday night as they attended services at the Apostles Church of God, Fire Marshal William Telscher said.

Telscher said a pipe extending from the heater to the wall was clogged with dirt and debris. No one required hospitalization.

A half cup of grated cheddar cheese may be added to a two-cup flour recipe for baking powder biscuits. Just stir the cheese into the dry ingredients, then cut in the shortening and add the milk.

IMPRESSIVE SOMBRERO — An example of the trend toward the sportive is shown in this gold beaver felt sombrero by Gladys and Belle. It features a matching grosgrain band and is perfect to wear either in town or in the country.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Dec. 6, the 340th day of 1963. There are 25
days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1643, Capt.
Thomas Pride arrested or excluded all Presbyterian and Royalist members of the British House of Commons prior to the trial of King Charles I. The act is known as "Pride's Purge"
and the remaining members were called the "Rump Parliament."

On this date:
In 1492, Christopher Columbus
discovered Haiti and named it Hispaniola.

In 1938, Germany and France
signed a non-aggression pact under which Germany pledged to pursue a peaceful, neighborly
policy toward France.

In 1955, the United States, Britain, France and Russia formally recognized the perpetual neutrality of Austria.

Ten years ago — Vicksburg,
Miss., counted 26 dead and 230
injured in a tornado — one of four such storms that also raged across Arkansas and Louisiana.
Five years ago — The Army fired its first lunar rocket to a point approximately 65,000 miles
into space.

One year ago — India closed
its consulates in Communist China and ordered the Peking government to close its consulates in India.

JFK Library Fund Drive Is Started

BOSTON (AP) — The two brothers of the slain president and the head of Harvard University today opened a fund-raising drive to build a John F. Kennedy Memorial Library that will belong to "all the people."

Announcement of the plan to raise $6 million entirely by public subscription was made at a news conference by Atty. Gen.
Robert F. Kennedy, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and Nathan M. Pusey, president of Harvard.

Robert Kennedy said:
"The organization of the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library represents the fulfillment of a cherished hope of my brother."

Pusey said Harvard has donated more than two acres of land for the library building at a site within view of Winthrop House, President Kennedy's dormitory in his Harvard undergraduate days.

Title to the land and building eventually would be turned over to the U.S. government as public property under the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Archives, Pusey said.

The Harvard president said that as recently as last Oct. 21—one month and one day before the assassination—he and President Kennedy had discussed construction of the library to house state and personal papers and memorabilia.

Galion Man Pleads Innocent in Tax Case

CEVELAND (AP) — Robert M. Corry of Galion pleaded innocent in U. S. District Court Thursday to charges of evading payment of $11,413 claimed due on his income taxes for 1956, 1957 and 1958.

The government charged that Corry, a Democratic candidate for congress in Ohio's 8th District in 1958, reported total income of $21,556 for the three years and that he earned a total of $59,938.28. The taxes should have been $16,453 instead of $5-039 as reported by Corry, the Internal Revenue Service said.

World Missions Council Sees Reversal of Image

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Negro missionaries from Jamaica converting white pagans in the industrial slums of England?

This is one of the questions that may be brought up at the first full meeting of the Commission on World Missions and Evangelism of the World Council of Churches opening in Mexico City Sunday.

Both North and South American and Orthodox delegates, as well as advisers, observers and youth delegates from all six continents, will attend the first major meeting of the World Council of Churches ever to be held in a Spanish-speaking country.

It also is the first full meeting of the commission since it was organized in New Delhi in 1961.

Some compare its importance with that of the Vatican Ecumenical Council of the Roman Catholic Church.

share of the flood of grace which God poureth forth for him. Let none, therefore, con-nominations. When the Russian Orthodox Church joined recently, it added 50 million members.

Among prominent figures scheduled to speak are Willem Adolf Visser 't Hooft, general secretary of the world council.

Object of the two-week meeting is to look at the missionary task "from a new angle."

Bishop Leslie Newbigin of Geneva, Switzerland, director of the division of world mission and evangelism, says the image of the word "missions" still evokes in the minds of many
"that of a white man going to Asia, Africa or perhaps Latin America."

"It is still an image shaped by the experience of the colonial era," he says. "When we use the word missions we do not normally see, for instance, some of those deeply committed Christians from Jamaica going to work in the pagan slums of industrial cities of England."

Armco Patents New Zinc Process

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)— Armco Steel Corp. reports it has obtained a patent on a process to apply different thicknesses of zinc coating to opposite sides of steel strip.

Armco officials say the process involves mechanical wiping of the zinc coating from one side of the steel strips and use of an open flame for alloying
the remaining coating.

The product offers improved paintability on the thin-coated alloyed side of the strip and superior corrosion resistance on the heavy-coated side.

One present application is in manufacture of automobile body panels.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4)
For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Dec. 6, the
days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1643, Capt.
Thomas Pride arrested or excluded all Presbyterian and Royalist members of the British
House of Commons prior to the trial of King Charles I. The act
is known as "Pride's Purge,"
and the remaining members
were called the "Rump Parliament."

On this date:
In 1492, Christopher Columbus
discovered Haiti and named it Hispaniola.

In 1938, Germany and France
signed a non-aggression pact under which Germany pledged to pursue a peaceful, neighborly
policy toward France.

In 1955, the United States, Brittain, France and Russia formally recognized the perpetual neutrality of Austria.

Ten years ago — Vicksburg,
Miss., counted 26 dead and 230
injured in a tornado — one of four such storms that also ripped across Arkansas and Louisiana.

Five years ago — The Army
fired its first lunar rocket to a point approximately 65,000 miles
into space.

One year ago — India closed
its consulates in Communist China and ordered the Peking government to close its con-
sulates in India.

PAUL DEFENDS APOSTOLIC AUTHORITY IN ANSWERING FALSE CHARGES OF CORINTHIAN DETRACTORS

Scripture—Acts 9:10-25; II Corinthians 10-13.

By N. SPEER JONES
PAUL'S first letter to the Corinthians concerned chiefly the problems that church was having, regarding such things as quarreling among themselves and sinning on the part of their members. His second letter is primarily a defense of himself against false charges leveled by other would-be leaders. Paul had to defend himself or see his great work come to nothing.

Since these detractors brought letters of commendation (3:1), they were apparently outsiders. They apparently represented Paul as being changeable and a traitor to his faith and country (11:22). They were also apparently mercenaries (11:7), and claimed to have superior authority (11:5).

In Chapter 10:3-6, we have a finely drawn analogy comparing Christian work with warfare; it points out the defiant nature of the ungodly, not even wishing to know God.

Paul's point in the next verse

but in reaching the heart. In the rest of the chapter, Paul maintains that he certainly does not seek the credit which is due to other men for their apostolic labors.

The first part of the 11th chapter is a discussion of the character of Paul's ministry. From 11:10 to 12:10, he presents us with one of the most unusual autobiographical passages in the Bible. The background for these experiences is to be found in the passage assigned from Acts, relating the beginning of Paul's ministry and the hazards he encountered almost immediately. Some of his later hardships are enumerated here.

The reference to "40 stripes save one" may indicate the fact that the Mishna prescribed that one below the number mentioned was to be given, in case an error should render an excessive beating. Also, the scourges usually had three cords, making it necessary to

is to remind them that he is the one who has taught them about Christianity; without his teaching, they would have no way of judging a Christian.

In verse 10 the accusation of Paul's weak bodily presence refers primarily to moral weakness evident in person, not necessarily physical weakness. It could hardly be said that one who endured as many hardships as did Paul was physically weak.

In 12:7-10, we do find evidence of some sort of bodily weakness in the famous "thorn in the flesh" passage. What this was, we are not sure, although it is probably the same ailment referred to in Galatians 4:13-15.

The criticism, in 10:10 and 11:6, of Paul's speech means that it was unadorned. Eloquence was an important factor to most Greeks, as Socrates has pointed out with scorn. Paul was not a rhetorician, nor did he aim to be; he was not interested in charming the ear.

Ashville News Report

By Mrs. Arthur Deal Jr.
Phone YU 3-6111

The Ashville Girl Scout Neighborhood Assn. met in the Ashville Methodist Church with 10 members present.

Mrs. John Sabine, chairman, announced that the District will now meet only every other month, unless special meetings are called. The next regular meeting is scheduled Jan. 20.

The group discussed several phases of day camping, including extension from the five to eight days. No action was taken.

It was announced that classes for Senior Girl Scouts on "Child Care Aid Training" will be held at the Columbus YMCA on Jan. 11, 18, 25, and Feb. 2. The group voted to purchase the disc, placed behind the membership stars on the scout's sashes.

Troop 321 was selected to conduct flag ceremonies for the Ashville December PTA meeting. All the local troops will meet 6:30 p. m. Dec. 16 at the Ashville Methodist Church. They will sing Christmas carols for shut-ins and senior citizens of the community. After caroling they will return to the church where they will receive refreshments.

Persons knowing of shut-ins or senior citizens who would enjoy the caroling are requested to notify Mrs. Sabine at YU 3-5731.

The Ashville Women's Civic Club will meet 8 p. m. today in the Ashville Methodist Church for its annual Christmas program and tea. Guest speaker will be Marilyn Lee, Home Demonstration Agent for South-Central Rural, Electric. Her topic will be "Exterior Home Decorating for Christmas."

Committee members in charge are Mrs. Alfred Axe, Mrs. Stella Morrison, Mrs. Stanley Bowers, Mrs. Warren Bastian, Mrs. Robert Knode and Mrs. Thomas Rife.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hedges, Route 2, Ashville, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on Nov. 24, at Shade's Party Home in Canal Winchester.

The community owes the Ashville Community Club a big thanks for downtown Christmas lights that add much spirit to the holiday season.

Club members constructed the strings of lights and installed them. It is hoped in future years more can be added to the decorations. The lights were turned on Friday evening and will remain on until Jan. 2.

The club also assumed the duty of moving a huge Christmas tree donated by Mrs. Valerie White. The tree, located in the White yard, is approximately 18-years-old. It was planted from a seedling by Mrs. White's late husband, Delmar.

This particular tree has been moved twice before, because it grew too large for its location. It never ceased to keep growing and is now a tall, stately tree located in the yard of the American Legion Home in the downtown area.

Members worked Thanksgiving Day, moving the tree to its present location. They removed it, leaving all the dirt around it and baling it up.

Even with the generous efforts of Glen Hay and his equipment, members couldn't lift the tree. They unballed it and removed the dirt.

A large hole was dug for the tree downtown. Finally it was erected at its new home.

Ashville — Harrison Volunteer Firemen poured about 400 gallons of water in the hole. Every means was taken for the tree to get a proper start again and bring joy to many.

The tree is expected to be decorated by this weekend. Santa Claus will meet and talk with all boys and girls at this spot when he arrives Dec. 23. Each will be given a sacked treat. Santa will visit the downtown area on Dec. 24 from 3:30 to 5:30 p. m.

The treats will be furnished through efforts of the Community Club. Helping with sacking of the candy will be volunteer firemen and their wives.

Runs made by the Ashville-Harrison Volunteer Fire Department this past week were: Nov. 26 — field fire at the farm of Link Brown, Route 1, Ash-ville, with no loss listed; Dec. 2 — an overheated motor at the Hunter Laundramat, Main and Long Sts., damage unlisted.

The Bastian Funeral Home made the following ambulance runs this past week: Nov. 28 moved Susan Beggrow, Linda and Brenda Ogan, all of Route 1, Lockbourne, to Berger Hospital, following a one-car accident on the Circleville - Lockbourne Road; Nov. 30 — moved Mary Bethel from Lockbourne to Mercy Hospital.

Tom Bausum spent Thanksgiving weekend with his wife, Nancy, and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bausum. Returning Sunday to Norfolk, Virginia with Tom was Gary Tedrow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tedrow, who had spent the past 18 days with his parents.

Highlighting the annual Teays Valley-Reynoldsburg basketball game here at Teays Valley Friday evening will be a dance following the game sponsored by the Freshman Class in the cafeteria.

Proceeds will be used for the Junior - Senior banquet.

Although no entertainment is planned, the dance will feature Butch Runyon's newly organized swing band, "The Rambler Rousers."

Dancing will last until midnight and refreshments will be served. Tickets will be on sale at the door and the dance is open to the public.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pettibone and Linda and Pop of Nashville, Tenn., spent the Thanksgiving holidays with Mr. Pettibone's mother, Mrs. Georgia Pettibone.

One pound packages of pecan halves are now being sold at the Featheringham's Furniture Store, Main and Long Streets, by the Ashville Women's Civic Club. This is a new shipment.

Proceeds will be used towards the annual club scholarship given yearly to a graduating senior at Teays Valley.

Conscience Fund Is $50 Richer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's treasury is $50 richer because an anonymous taxpayer's conscience hurt.

State Treasurer John D. Herbert received an unsigned letter bearing a Mount Vernon postmark, which contained a $50 bill and this request:

"Would you please put this in your conscience fund, in the sales tax fund."

A "holiday season" gift from a Cincinnati woman added another $5.

Actor Does 2 Big Roles In Five Successful Years

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Rex Harrison has devoted almost five years of his acting career to playing two roles: Henry Higgins and Julius Caesar.

"It's extraordinary," even he must admit.

Academy voters will be balloting on half of Harrison's achievement next spring, and it's very possible that his performance in "Cleopatra" will be named 1963's best.

Right now he is finishing up his 1,007th performance in "My Fair Lady," this one for the screen. He paused for some reflections on his two long-running roles.

"It's difficult to imagine that it is finally coming to an end," he said. "As you near the finish, you start yearning for it to be over. But hard work remains to be done."

"I still have to do 'I've Grown Accustomed to Her Face,' and it's a most difficult number. It helps to explain Higgins and is very important to the plot. On the stage it was easier, because I had built up the mood for myself through doing the rest of the play. In the film I've got to manufacture the feeling out of nowhere."

Harrison played "My Fair Lady" two years in New York and another in London and signed for the movie just a year ago. That he could retain his zest for the role is a tribute to his skill as an actor.

Caesar, to whom Harrison devoted a full year of filming, was something else again.

"I had been hoping to have some time to ease into the role," he said. "But no. For my first scene I was put into a purple toga with those damned gold leaves on my head and plunked into the middle of the bloody Forum with thousands of extras and a lot of senators I had to play lines to."

"I was disastrous, but fortunately very little of it ended up in the picture."

The action moved to more intimate scenes with Elizabeth Taylor and he was able to endow Caesar with some dimension.

Co-star Audrey Hepburn completes her role in "My Fair Lady" this week, and Harrison will be finished as soon as he films the final number. What next?

"I honestly don't know," he said. "It's hard to know what to do after a pair of roles like these."

In verse 10 the accusation of Paul's weak bodily presence refers primarily to moral weakness evident in person, not necessarily physical weakness. It could hardly be said that one who endured as many hardships as did Paul was physically weak.

In 12:7-10, we do find evidence of some sort of bodily weakness in the famous "thorn in the flesh" passage. What this was, we are not sure, although it is probably the same ailment referred to in Galatians 4:13-15.

The criticism, in 10:10 and 11:6, of Paul's speech means that it was unadorned. Eloquence was an important factor to most Greeks, as Socrates has pointed out with scorn. Paul was not a rhetorician, nor did he aim to be; he was not interested in charming the ear.

but in reaching the heart.
In the rest of the chapter, Paul maintains that he certainly does not seek the credit which is due to other men for their apostolic labors.

The first part of the 11th chapter is a discussion of the character of Paul's ministry. From 11:10 to 12:10, he presents us with one of the most unusual autobiographical passages in the Bible. The background for these experiences is to be found in the passage assigned from Acts, relating the beginning of Paul's ministry and the hazards he encountered almost immediately. Some of his later hardships are enumerated here.

The reference to "40 stripes save one" may indicate the fact that the Mishna prescribed that one below the number mentioned was to be given, in case an error should render an excessive beating. Also, the scourges usually had three cords, making it necessary to inflict stripes in multiples of three.

Being beaten with rods (11:25) was such a severe punishment that often a doctor was called upon to examine a victim prior to the beating, to see if he might survive it. (See Acts 16:22-23). The stoning took place at Lystra (Acts 14:19). Since this letter was written before the shipwreck of Acts 27, Paul was apparently shipwrecked at least three other times.

The danger of river crossings (26) was a very real one in those days, as it is even now in remote areas.
In the first part of Chapter 12, Paul mentions something never referred to elsewhere in the New Testament—his being given a glimpse of paradise. The lesson began with the account of Paul's distant apostolic authority (Acts 10:10-26); here is an even stronger reference, in his defense to the Corinthians.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hedges, Route 2, Ashville, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on Nov. 24, at Shade's Party Home in Canal Winchester.

The community owes the Ashville Community Club a big thanks for downtown Christmas lights that add much spirit to the holiday season.

Club members constructed the strings of lights and installed them. It is hoped in future years more can be added to the decorations. The lights were turned on Friday evening and will remain on until Jan. 2.

The club also assumed the duty of moving a huge Christmas tree donated by Mrs. Valerie White. The tree, located in the White yard, is approximately 18-years-old. It was planted from a seedling by Mrs. White's late husband, Delmar.

This particular tree has been moved twice before, because it grew too large for its location. It never ceased to keep growing and is now a tall, stately tree located in the yard of the American Legion Home in the downtown area.

Members worked Thanksgiving Day, moving the tree to its present location. They removed it, leaving all the dirt around it and bailing it up.

Even with the generous efforts of Glen Hay and his equipment, members couldn't lift the tree. They unballed it and removed the dirt.
A large hole was dug for the tree downtown. Finally it was erected at its new home.

Ashville — Harrison Volunteer Firemen poured about 400 gallons of water in the hole. Every means was taken for the tree to get a proper start again and bring joy to many.

The tree is expected to be decorated by this weekend. Santa Claus will meet and talk with all boys and girls at this spot when he arrives Dec. 23. Each will be given a sacked treat. Santa will visit the downtown area on Dec. 24 from 3:30 to 5:30 p. m.

The treats will be furnished through efforts of the Community Club. Helping with sacking of the candy will be volunteer firemen and their wives.

Conscience Fund Is $50 Richer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's treasury is $50 richer because an anonymous taxpayer's conscience lured.

State Treasurer John D. Herbert received an unsigned letter bearing a Mount Vernon postmark, which contained a $50 bill and this request:

"Would you please put this in your conscience fund, in the sales tax fund."

A "holiday season" gift from a Cincinnati woman added another $5.

Actor Does 2 Big Roles In Five Successful Years

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Rex Harrison has devoted almost five years of his acting career to playing two roles: Henry Higgins and Julius Caesar.

"It's extraordinary," even he must admit.
Academy voters will be balloting on half of Harrison's achievement next spring, and it's very possible that his performance in "Cleopatra" will be named 1963's best.

Right now he is finishing up his 1,007th performance in "My Fair Lady," this one for the screen. He paused for some reflections on his two long-running roles.

"It's difficult to imagine that it is finally coming to an end," he said. "As you near the finish, you start yearning for it to be over. But hard work remains to be done."

"I still have to do 'I've Grown Accustomed to Her Face,' and it's a most difficult number. It helps to explain Higgins and is very important to the plot. On the stage it was easier, because I had built up the mood for myself through doing the rest of the play. In the film I've got to manufacture the feeling out of nowhere."

Harrison played "My Fair Lady" two years in New York and another in London and signed for the movie just a year ago. That he could retain his zest for the role is a tribute to his skill as an actor.

Caesar, to whom Harrison devoted a full year of filming, was something else again.

"I had been hoping to have some time to ease into the role," he said. "But no. For my first scene I was put into a purple toga with those damned gold leaves on my head and plunked into the middle of the bloody Forum with thousands of extras and a lot of senators I had to play lines to."

"I was disastrous, but fortunately very little of it ended up in the picture."

The action moved to more intimate scenes with Elizabeth Taylor and he was able to endow Caesar with some dimension.

Co-star Audrey Hepburn completes her role in "My Fair Lady" this week, and Harrison will be finished as soon as he films the final number. What next?

"I honestly don't know," he said. "It's hard to know what to do after a pair of roles like these."

Steel Union Chief Bows to Automation

NEW YORK (AP)—The president of the United Steelworkers of America, David J. McDonald, told a group of industrialists that "to oppose automation would be to oppose progress and this I shall never do."

But, McDonald said, automation raises problems of job displacement that must be met vigorously if the nation's economy is not to suffer.

His comment contrasts somewhat with the position taken by George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, who called automation a curse.

McDonald was among speakers at the second day of the 68th annual convention of the National Association of Manufacturers.

"The adversaries we are facing in the cold war are automating," McDonald said. "We must not only keep pace with their industrial progress. We must stay far ahead."

"But we must learn to harness it. We must provide opportunities for gainful employment of our work force. Or we must assume the impossible

—Youngstown University, $500,000 to $5 million.
—Cuyahoga County higher education, $7,250,000 (not defined, but apparently intended to fulfill the promise of $12 million from the bond issue for higher education in Cuyahoga County), plus $1 million for Cuyahoga Community College, $3 million for "Cuyahoga County Engineering School"—which Fenn College has been asked, but has not yet agreed, to develop—and $750,000 for "Cuyahoga County Technical Center," also in the planning stage.
—Natural Resources Department, $18,650,000 to $18,950,000 (adding a $300,000 Hocking Hills project).

Other figures in the bill include $10 million for a rotary fund to help needy school districts, $1 million for the State Board of Regents to develop a master plan for higher education, $6,496,500 for Bowling Green State University, $1,578,000 for Central State College, $8,494,000 for Kent State University, $1 million for Lorain County Community College, $1 million for Bowling Green Technical Institute at Rossford, $2,524,000 for Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, $5.5 million for rehabilitation of mental hygiene and correction facilities, $1,380,000 for State Fairgrounds facilities, $2,500,000 for youths camps (State Youth Commission) and $1.5 million for a Highway Patrol academy.
The period covered in the authorization is until June 30, 1965.
The only bill passed in the House Thursday (117-3, with an emergency clause to give it immediate effect) would prevent public utilities from delaying payment of their property taxes while seeking lower assessment. It went to the Senate.
Sponsors said such delays, by making a token $1 payment, mean school districts are deprived of needed money until the matter is settled.
The Senate, among other things, completed passage (22-9) of a bill banning public disclosure of financial data submitted to the Development Financing Commission by companies seeking loans to build or expand facilities in Ohio.
A recess was expected during this afternoon's House session to give the Judiciary Committee a final chance to decide whether to recommend a Senate-approved bill on regulation of spacing on drilling oil and gas wells.

Two cards bearing reproductions of Mrs. Kennedy's paintings are being distributed by Hallmark Cards, Inc. Net proceeds will go to the proposed National Cultural Center in Washington.

The cabinet group immediately turned back to Washington and the conference was postponed.

Fearful Harbor Day: The Navy will mark the 22nd anniversary Saturday of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor by commissioning a new guided missile frigate named for a California ensign who died in the battle.

The first England was a World War II destroyer-escort which made history in 1944 when it sank six Japanese submarines in 12 days.

Krebiozen: Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., has asked for a Senate investigation of the validity of two government agencies' reports that Krebiozen is ineffective as an anti-cancer drug.

Legislature To Wind Up Parley Today

These adjustments include:
—University of Akron, $2,750,000 to $6 million.
—University of Cincinnati, $2,595,000 to $6 million.
—Miami University, $6,347,000 to $9,947,000.
—Ohio University, $7,420,500 to $9,420,500 ($200,000 for Portsmouth branch, $10,000 for Chillicothe, Zanesville, Belmont County branches).
—Ohio State University, $18,752,900 to $26,652,900 ($3.3 million for Lima branch, $3 million Dayton $2.2 million Mansfield).
—University of Toledo, $1 million to $6 million.
—Youngstown University, $500,000 to $5 million.

—Cuyahoga County higher education, $7,250,000 (not defined, but apparently intended to fulfill the promise of $12 million from the bond issue for higher education in Cuyahoga County), plus $1 million for Cuyahoga Community College, $3 million for "Cuyahoga County Engineering School"—which Fenn College has been asked, but has not yet agreed, to develop—and $750,000 for "Cuyahoga County Technical Center," also in the planning stage.

—Natural Resources Department, $18,650,000 to $18,950,000 (adding a $300,000 Hocking Hills project).

—General revenue fund in section for loans to conservancy districts $250,000, bringing total to $2,050,000.

Other figures in the bill include $10 million for a rotary fund to help needy school districts, $1 million for the State Board of Regents to develop a master plan for higher education, $6,496,500 for Bowling Green State University, $1,578,000 for Central State College, $8,494,000 for Kent State University, $1 million for Lorain County Community College, $1 million for Bowling Green Technical Institute at Rossford, $2,524,000 for Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, $5.5 million for rehabilitation of mental hygiene and correction facilities, $1,380,000 for State Fairgrounds facilities, $2,500,000 for youths camps (State Youth Commission) and $1.5 million for a Highway Patrol academy.

The period covered in the authorization is until June 30, 1965.

The only bill passed in the House Thursday (117-3, with an emergency clause to give it immediate effect) would prevent public utilities from delaying payment of their property taxes while seeking lower assessment. It went to the Senate.

Sponsors said such delays, by making a token $1 payment, mean school districts are deprived of needed money until the matter is settled.

The Senate, among other things, completed passage (22-9) of a bill banning public disclosure of financial data submitted to the Development Financing Commission by companies seeking loans to build or expand facilities in Ohio.

A recess was expected during this afternoon's House session to give the Judiciary Committee a final chance to decide whether to recommend a Senate-approved bill on regulation of spacing on drilling oil and gas wells.

Yule Cards By Jackie Are Offered

NEW YORK (AP)—A growing trend in Christmas cards painted by artists of renown and sold for the benefit of charitable or cultural projects has a new and distinguished contributor.

"JBK," for Jacqueline Bouvier Kennedy

Two cards bearing reproductions of Mrs. Kennedy's paintings are being distributed by Hallmark Cards, Inc. Net proceeds will go to the proposed National Cultural Center in Washington.

Mrs. Kennedy had suggested several months ago that she design the cards for the benefit of the center. A bill has been introduced in Congress to name the center for her husband, the late President John F. Kennedy.

Mrs. Kennedy's cards are reproductions of original water colors she completed earlier this year. "The Journey of the Magi" depicts the three Wise Men on their way to Jerusalem. "Glad Tidings" portrays an angel heralding the birth of Jesus.

Mother, 26, Is Convicted

Fatal Child Beating Verdict Returned

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—A 26-year-old mother has been convicted of manslaughter in the beating death of a 22-month-old son, her second child to die at home.

A Common Pleas Court jury deliberated only 90 minutes Thursday before returning a verdict of guilty against Mrs. Cora Ferrell of Wheelersburg in the Oct. 9 death of her son, Mark Anthony. Sentencing was delayed by Judge Earl E. Stephenson.

Authorities at first believed that Mark's death was a result of a fall from his bed, 18 inches from the floor. A coroner's inquest later showed, however, that two skull fractures had caused his death.

Mrs. Ferrell denied on the witness stand that she had struck the child across the head or face. She did admit that she had hit him on the buttocks with a "little board" about the size of a ruler in an attempt to train him to use a toilet chair.

She testified that she heard the child fall, then found him on the floor next to his bed. She said she noticed he had stiffened his legs but still placed him back in bed.

Her husband, Wilford, summoned the sheriff's deputies after returning home about 15 minutes later. He said it was too late then to help the baby.

Subsequent testimony in the four-day trial showed that in 1959 another of Mrs. Ferrell's children, 18-month-old Marty, had died at home.

Another 3-year-old child — a girl — was in a Portsmouth hospital with a fractured leg at the time of the investigation.

Ohio Water Supply Still Below Par

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Division of Water found a little comfort today in the long-break picture of the state's water supply, despite an eighth consecutive month in which rainfall was below normal.

Paul Kaser, chief hydrologist found the bright spot, saying: "Some comfort may be taken from the fact that the extremely low stream stages and levels in reservoirs provide some additional storage which would tend to reduce a possible flood. We must not lose sight of the fact that floods frequently occur in January."

Kaser said the drought situation constitutes at least a "yellow alert" and in some cases a "red alert" for water supply agencies in Ohio. "We urge that all persons dealing with water supply, both public and private, take stock of their individual situations, if they have not already done so," Kaser said.

Dallas Maintains Watch On Assassination Scene

DALLAS (AP) — "People bring flowers for him but that doesn't help any—he's dead now."

These words came from a small boy, holding his father's hand near the site where a sniper's bullets ended the life of John F. Kennedy.

He was looking at dozens of floral wreaths on grassy plots at each side of the sloping street where Kennedy was assassinated Nov. 22.

Most of the flowers have been there more than a week. They are wilted. Many are strewn on the grass.

A few small American flags are stuck in the ground. One large Australian flag is there, placed by a man who told police he was an artist and gave them a sketch he had done of the late President. The sketch was signed "Gordon Currie."

A few notes at the scene express sympathy for Mrs. Kennedy and her children, Caroline and John Jr. one reads: "Please do not blame Dallas. The good Lord had his reason."

A Bible lies open on the ground. Apparently no scripture was marked.

Across the street at the Texas School Book Depository Building, from which police say the fatal shots were fired, there was little activity Wednesday. A police man stood at the door. No one is allowed on the sixth floor, where the assassin lay in wait.

The crowds of mourners and curious visitors which at first almost caused traffic accidents are much smaller. Most passers-by take pictures.

"It's settling down some," said Ralph Trostel, one of several policemen who have kept watch 24 hours a day.

"It's nothing like at first, but people still come by during the day and night. We let them drive by as slowly as they want to, just so they keep moving."

West Virginia To Host St. John's, Duke, Bucks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

As part of the festivities revolving around West Virginia's 100th year of statehood, the Centennial Classic basketball tournament opens tonight at Morgantown with the Mountaineers in a four-team field that includes fourth-ranked Duke and seventh-ranked Ohio State.

The Mountaineers have passed through the Hot Rod Hundley, Jerry West and Rod Thorn eras and face an imposing task in the tournament. They tackle St. John's, N.Y., in the first round after Duke and Ohio State tangle in the opening game.

The Mountaineers lack an established star of the Hundley-West-Thorn mold and showed a weak offense in beating Furman 67-65 and The Citadel 58-53.

If they get by St. John's, they'll have to match baskets either with a Duke team boasting Jeff Mullins and a pair of 6-foot-10 standouts in Jay Buckley and Hack Tison, or an Ohio State team built around high-scoring Gary Bradds.

One other major college tournament is scheduled tonight as the collegians usher in the annual holiday tournament season. That's the Steel Bowl at Pittsburgh, where Duquesne meets Westminster and Pittsburgh plays George Washington.

Two other Top Ten teams are in action tonight, second-ranked NYU facing Tulsa in the second half of a doubleheader at New York's Madison Square Garden, and eighth-ranked Michigan meeting Nebraska at Ann Arbor. The Garden opener matches Manhattan and Navy.

Thursday night's basketball fare was skimpy, with only six major games played. Five were close, however, decided by a total of 16 points.

Georgia edged Clemson 87-86 on Billy Rado's jump shot with three seconds left, Sam Chase collected 24 points as LSU defeated SMU 66-62, Cecil Upshaw's 22 points led Centenary to a 77-72 triumph over TCU. Texas A&M held on for a 61-58 decision over Houston and New Orleans Loyola nipped Southern Mississippi 72-69.

In the only other major game, DePaul surged to a 33-point lead early in the second half and coasted the rest of the way behind substitutes for a 78-67 win over Idaho State. All five DePaul regulars scored in double figures, with Jim Murphy's 19 points taking scoring honors.

Tiger Frosh, 8th Graders Lose Games

Both the Circleville freshman and eighth grade basketball teams lost at Chillicothe Mt. Logan last night. The frosh were topped 43-27 while the eighth graders fell, 45-36.

In the freshman tilt, the Tigers came through with a good first half performance. But they could not keep pace with the superior height of the Chillicothe lads who controlled the rebounds.

The score at halftime was knotted 15-15. By the beginning of the final period, the host school was leading 28-21. In the final frame the young Bengals could score only six points while their opponents were tallying 15.

High point man was Francis of Mt. Logan with 14 markers. Danny Gibbs paced the Circleville offense with eight markers while Danny Speakman scored seven.

IN THE eighth grade tilt, the local team trailed 23-20 at halftime. In the third quarter, Mt. Logan built up a 37-29 edge.

Steve Dade tallied 17 points for Circleville to lead all scorers while Craig Lambert had 11 points. Seekatz was high for the winners with 16 points.

The Tiger eighth graders have a 1-2 slate while the frosh are 0-3.

Thursday the frosh travel to Miami Trace. The eighth graders are idle until Jan. 7 when Mt. Logan comes here.

Detroit Defense Eyed by Browns

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Browns will face a defensive unit which Coach Blanton Collier rates as "solid all the way—front four, linebackers and defensive backs," when the Browns meet the Detroit Lions Sunday.

The Detroit defense, says Collier, is very aggressive. "The Lions blitz as much or perhaps even more than St. Louis," the coach observed. "One or two linebackers are sent after the passer about 50 per cent of the time."

Staubach Leads All-America '11'

NEW YORK (AP) — Three quarterbacks including miraculous Midshipman Roger Staubach, a gritty little man, and a part-time teacher join returnee Damon Bame on the 1963 Associated Press All-America football team.

Staubach won the Heisman Trophy as the College Player of the Year. With Saturday's game against Army remaining, he has accounted for 1,738 yards passing and running.

This was the year of the quarterback. Jimmy Sidle, who guided Orange Bowl trip, and Billy Lothridge, Georgia Tech's "Do it Yourself" exponent, were the other field generalists picked on the recommendations of eight regional boards. The sports writers and broadcasters took into account all games through Nov. 30.

Sherman Lewis, a 154-pound Michigan State Springer, completes the 'backfield.

A line averaging 25 pounds features Dame, rated a better guard than a year ago when he spurred Southern California's national champions. End Dave Parks of Texas Tech, first man picked in the National Football League draft, is paired with Bob Lacey of North Carolina.

Scott Appleton, a 235-pounder who has been practicing teaching at an Austin elementary school, blocked and tackled Texas to its first perfect season in 5 years. At the other tackle is Minnesota's Carl Eller, who stood out for an unspectacular team.

Guard Bob Brown, "the Big Daddy" of Nebraska's first conference champions in 23 years, and fiery center-linebacker Dick Butkus of Rose Bowl-bound Illinois complete the squad.

Staubach, Sidle and Butkus are juniors, the rest seniors. Staubach is just plain hard to believe. Against Michigan, for example, he completed 14 of 16 passes for 37 yards and two touchdowns, then ran 70 more.

He accounted for 235 yards in Navy's only loss, the wild 3-28 setback to Southern Methodist, and on the final play was passing for an apparent winning score when a defender batted the ball away from the receiver in the end zone.

Basing the selections on all-around excellence rather than on a quarterback, fullback and two halfbacks, the team also includes Sidle and Lothridge.

The Southeastern Regional Board rated Sidle slightly ahead of Lothridge and 196 All-America George Mira, in that order, at the signal calling job. Mira, who had a better passing record this year with less help, is in the second team backfield with Baylor's Don Trull. Duke's Jay Wilkinson and Gale Sayers of Kansas.

Although a marked man who sometimes crashed into linemen 100 pounds heavier, Lewis never missed a game in three varsity seasons and always was a threat to break open a contest at any moment.

He turned in five runs of over 80 yards this season.

Parks was grabbed by the San Francisco 49'ers in the NFL draft and may be used as a defensive back.

North Carolina wouldn't give Lacey a football scholarship at the outset until he earned it, which took almost no time at all.

Appleton, a middle guard on defense and weak side tackle in Texas's flip-flop offense, is a big reason the Longhorns have lost only twice since he became a varsity head knocker.

Eller capped a brilliant season in the 13-0 rube victory over Wisconsin during which he led a great goal line stand at the one, deflected a pass to a teammate for an interception, caught a tackle eligible pass and generally made life miserable for Badger quarterbacks.

Brown is the team's big man at 269 pounds. He wears out a pair of six 14½-E shoes per game and caves in a helmet almost as often.

NEW YORK (AP) — Ohioans named to The Associated Press' 1963 All-America football team include:

First team: Bob Brown of Cleveland, Nebraska guard; Roger Staubach of Cincinnati, Navy quarterback.

Second team: Ernie Borghetti of Youngstown, Pitt tackle.

Third team: Tom Vaughn of Troy, Iowa State back.

Honorable mention: John Henderson of Dayton, Michigan end; Jim Curry, Cincinnati end; Tom Jenkins of Dayton, Ohio State guard; Darrell Cauley, Cincinnati guard; Don (Skip) Hoover of Pataskala, Ohio U. center; Jim Albert of Canfield, Ohio U. back; Ernie Kellermann of Maple Heights, Miami (Ohio) back; Jay Cunningham of Youngstown, Bowling Green back; Paul Warfield of Warren, Ohio State back; Tom Myers of Troy, Northwestern back; Bob Timmerlake of Franklin, Michigan back; Brig Owens, Cincinnati back.

Tiger Is Favored To Trip Giardello

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Dick Tiger, a pressure fighter, with intense pride in his role as world middleweight boxing champion, rates a solid favorite to turn back the challenge of confident Joey Giardello in their title match Saturday at Convention Hall.

When Tiger and Giardello split two decisions in 1959, they were eager young contenders for the crown claimed by both Sugar Ray Robinson and Gene Fullmer. Now Tiger is the boss. Having disposed of Fullmer in three matches, he is ready to give Giardello his chance.

Tiger Matmen Down Central In 25-18 Meet

CHS Earns Wins In Seven of 11 Individual Matches

The Circleville High School wrestling squad brought home a 25-18 win in its first meet of the season at Columbus Central.

The Tiger grapplers won seven of the matches, dropped three and forfeited one to garner their winning edge.

Wrestling coach Dave LaBounty noted that five of the boys were appearing in their first meet last night.

Craig Benzonber, a freshman, pinned his opponent in the 103-pound class in 5 minutes and 14 seconds. It was his first encounter.

PEDRO KUHN, also appearing in his first match, was pinned in the 112-pound class. The next four weight classes were won by Circleville.

Charlie Martin, a 120-pounder, decided his opponent 1-0 Junior Tootle earned a 3-2 decision in the 127-pound event. Tom McDonald edged his opponent 5-2, and Glenn Easterday came through with a pin in the 137 pound class.

Fred Rickey, a 145-pound senior, was decided 7-0. LaBounty reported the fact Rickey was not pinned helped the Tigers win the match.

Jim Montgomery was pinned in the 154 class. Joe List took his opponent 7-2 in the 165 pound.

Duke Fyffe, the lone contestant Circleville has in the 175 pound class, did not compete because of a knee injury. Circleville was forced to forfeit this match.

In the heavyweight competition, Howard Fletcher earned a 4-0 decision.

The next meet will be Dec. 13 at Whitehall beginning at 4:30 p. m. The first home appearance for the Tiger's is Dec. 20 when they host Grove City.

Dan Topping has been co-owner of the New York Yankees since 1945.

Parents Night Will Open Weekend Twin Cage Bill

Parents' Night will be observed tonight in the Circleville High School gymnasium when the Tigers of Greenfield McClain come to town. And tomorrow night the Vikings of Teays Valley will invade the CHS bailiwick.

The two-night home stand is the only one on the Circleville schedule until the weekend of Feb. 7 and 8, when Hillsboro and Franklin Heights visit.

'64 Racing Dates Are under Study

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Racing Commission plans to consider applications for 1964 horse racing dates from at least 17 tracks and organizations at a meeting scheduled here next Wednesday.

Harness racing dates are being sought by groups representing Hamilton, Lebanon, Painesville and Toledo raceways; Mid-America Racing Association and Scioto Downs, Columbus, and Northfield Park and Grandview (at Northfield), between Akron and Cleveland.

Night harness racing would get under way May 1 at both Lebanon and Northfield and end Oct. 5 at Northfield if the applications are approved.

Last year a total of 352 days of running races and a total of 350 nights of harness racing was granted by the commission.

More Players OK'd For Blue-Gray Tilt

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Seven more college football players signed Thursday to play in the Blue-Gray football game Dec. 28.

Kentucky lineman Herschel Turner and Virginia end Jake Adams signed Gray contracts.

Signing with the Blues were Penn State halfback Don Caum, quarterback Henry Schlichtle of Wichita, end Dave Ellison of Purdue, Ken Coleman of Kansas and Indiana guard Carmer Bencivenni.

The probable starting five for tonight's tilt will be Dave Bass and Bob Purcell at guards, Tom Smith at center and Tom Tootle and John Thomas at forwards, according to Don Neff, Tiger cage mentor. He indicated the same five possibly will start against Teays Valley.

The tilt with the Vikings promises to be one of the keenest non-league cage rivalries in the area. Playing an independent schedule this year, Teays Valley will be a member of the South Suburban League during the 1964-65 school year, along with Hamilton Twp., Franklin Heights and Pleasant View.

The Tiger mentor said he knows little about Teays Valley. The Vikings have played only one game, although they will host Reynoldsburg tonight.

Teays Valley will be the final non-league foe on the Circleville schedule until tournament time.

Greenfield McClain High School basketball coach George Barnes, a newcomer in the South Central Ohio League, is a veteran in the cage sport.

HE HAS coached cage teams in Ross County for 11 years. He was head coach at Buckskin for three years where he had one Ross County Tournament championship team.

At Huntington his teams won the county league title in 1958 and copped the tourney title in 1959. His teams have always been good. His overall coaching record shows 119 wins against 55 losses.

He had the respect of opposing coaches in Ross County, and was called the "Old Fox" by many.

Barnes is a graduate of Greenfield McClain and attended Huntington College in Indiana.

Circleville coach Don Neff played at Union High school while Barnes was coaching in Ross County at Buckskin.

Neff reported the McClain offense is built around rugged center Tom Doyle. They have a fast team, using a man-to-man defense most of the time, with a man-to-man press on occasion.

West Virginia To Host St. John's, Duke, Bucks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

As part of the festivities revolving around West Virginia's 100th year of statehood, the Centennial Classic basketball tournament opens tonight at Morgantown with the Mountaineers in a four-team field that includes fourth-ranked Duke and seventh-ranked Ohio State.

The Mountaineers have passed through the Hot Rod Hundley, Jerry West and Rod Thorn eras and face an imposing task in the tournament. They tackle St. John's, N.Y., in the first round after Duke and Ohio State tangle in the opening game.

The Mountaineers lack an established star of the Hundley-West-Thorn mold and showed a weak offense in beating Furman 67-65 and The Citadel 58-53.

If they get by St. John's, they'll have to match baskets either with a Duke team boasting Jeff Mullins and a pair of 6-foot-10 standouts in Jay Buckley and Hack Tison, or an Ohio State team built around high-scoring Gary Braddis.

One other major college tournament is scheduled tonight as the collegians usher in the annual holiday tournament season. That's the Steel Bowl at Pittsburgh, where Duquesne meets Westminster and Pittsburgh plays George Washington.

Two other Top Ten teams are in action tonight, second-ranked NYU facing Tulsa in the second half of a doubleheader at New York's Madison Square Garden, and eighth-ranked Michigan meeting Nebraska at Ann Arbor. The Garden opener matches Manhattan and Navy.

Thursday night's basketball fare was skimpy, with only six major games played. Five were close, however, decided by a total of 16 points.

Georgia edged Clemson 87-86 on Billy Rado's jump shot with three seconds left. Sam Chase collected 24 points as LSU defeated SMU 66-62. Cecil Upshaw's 22 points led Centenary to a 77-72 triumph over TCU. Texas A&M held on for a 61-58 decision over Houston and New Orleans Loyola nipped Southern Mississippi 72-69.

In the only other major game, DePaul surged to a 33-point lead early in the second half and coasted the rest of the way behind substitutes for a 78-67 win over Idaho State. All five DePaul regulars scored in double figures, with Jim Murphy's 19 points taking scoring honors.

Tiger Frosh, 8th Graders Lose Games

Both the Circleville freshman and eighth grade basketball teams lost at Chillicothe Mt. Logan last night. The frosh were topped 43-27 while the eighth graders fell, 45-36.

In the freshman tilt, the Tigers came through with a good first half performance. But they could not keep pace with the superior height of the Chillicothe lads who controlled the rebounds.

The score at halftime was knotted 15-15. By the beginning of the final period, the host school was leading 28-21. In the final frame the young Bengals could score only six points while their opponents were tallying 15.

High point man was Francis of Mt. Logan with 14 markers. Danny Gibbs paced the Circleville offense with eight markers while Danny Speakman scored seven.

IN THE eighth grade tilt, the local team trailed 23-20 at halftime. In the third quarter, Mt. Logan built up a 37-29 edge.

Steve Dade tallied 17 points for Circleville to lead all scorers while Craig Lambert had 11 points. Seekatz was high for the winners with 16 points.

The Tiger eighth graders have a 1-2 slate while the frosh are 0-3.

Thursday the frosh travel to Miami Trace. The eighth graders are idle until Jan. 7 when Mt. Logan comes here.

Detroit Defense Eyed by Browns

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Browns will face a defensive unit which Coach Blanton Collier rates as "solid all the way—front four, linebackers and defensive backs," when the Browns meet the Detroit Lions Sunday.

The Detroit defense, says Collier, is very aggressive. "The Lions blitz as much or perhaps even more than St. Louis," the coach observed. "One or two linebackers are sent after the passer about 50 per cent of the time."

Staubach Leads All-America '11'

NEW YORK (AP) — Three quarterbacks including miraculous Midshipman Roger Staubach, a gritty little man, and a part-time teacher join returnee Damon Bame on the 1963 Associated Press All-America football team.

Staubach won the Heisman Trophy as the College Player of the Year. With Saturday's game against Army remaining, he has accounted for 1,738 yards passing and running.

This was the year of the quarterback.

Jimmy Sidle, who guided Orange Bowl trip, and Billy Lothridge, Georgia Tech's "Do it Yourself" exponent, were the other field generals picked on the recommendations of eight regional boards. The sports-writers and broadcasters took into account all games through Nov. 30.

Sherman Lewis, a 154-pound Michigan State Springer, completes the backfield.

A line averaging 25 pounds features Dame, rated a better guard than a year ago when he spurred Southern California's national champions.

End Dave Parks of Texas Tech, first man picked in the National Football League draft, is paired with Bob Lacey of North Carolina.

Scott Appleton, a 235-pounder who has been practicing teaching at an Austin elementary school, blocked and tackled Texas to its first perfect season in 5 years. At the other tackle is Minnesota's Carl Eller, who stood out for an unspectacular team.

Guard Bob Brown, "the Big Daddy" of Nebraska's first conference champions in 23 years, and fiery center-linebacker Dick Butkus of Rose Bowl-bound Illinois complete the squad.

Staubach, Sidle and Butkus are juniors, the rest seniors.

Staubach is just plain hard to believe. Against Michigan, for example, he completed 14 of 16 passes for 37 yards and two touchdowns, then ran 70 more. He accounted for 235 yards in Navy's only loss, the wild 3-28 setback to Southern Methodist, and on the final play was passing for an apparent winning score when a defender batted the ball away from the receiver in the end zone.

Basing the selections on all-around excellence rather than on a quarterback, fullback and two halfbacks, the team also includes Sidle and Lothridge.

The Southeastern Regional Board rated Sidle slightly ahead of Lothridge and 196 All-America George Mira, in that order, at the signal calling job. Mira, who had a better passing record this year with less help, is in the second team backfield with Baylor's Don Trull, Duke's Jay Wilkinson and Gale Sayers of Kansas.

Although a marked man who sometimes crashed into linemen 100 pounds heavier, Lewis never missed a game in three varsity seasons and always was a threat to break open a contest at any moment.

He turned in five runs of over 80 yards this season.

Parks was grabbed by the San Francisco 49'ers in the NFL draft and may be used as a defensive back.

North Carolina wouldn't give Lacey a football scholarship at the outset until he earned it, which took almost no time at all.

Appleton, a middle guard on defense and weak side tackle in Texas's flip-flop offense, is a big reason the Longhorns have lost only twice since he became a varsity head knocker.

Eller capped a brilliant season in the 13-0 rude victory over Wisconsin during which he led a great goal line stand at the one, deflected a pass to a teammate for an interception, caught a tackle eligible pass and generally made life miserable for Badger quarterbacks.

Brown is the team's big man at 269 pounds. He wears out a pair of six 14½-E shoes per game and caves in a helmet almost as often.

NEW YORK (AP) — Ohioans named to The Associated Press' 1963 All-America football team include:

First team: Bob Brown of Cleveland, Nebraska guard; Roger Staubach of Cincinnati, Navy quarterback.

Second team: Ernie Borghetti of Youngstown, Pitt tackle.

Third team: Tom Vaughn of Troy, Iowa State back.

Honorable mention: John Henderson of Dayton, Michigan end; Jim Curry, Cincinnati end; Tom Jenkins of Dayton, Ohio State guard; Darrell Cauley, Cincinnati guard; Don (Skip) Hoover of Pataskala, Ohio U. center; Jim Albert of Canfield, Ohio U. back; Ernie Kellermann of Maple Heights, Miami (Ohio) back; Jay Cunningham of Youngstown, Bowling Green back; Paul Warfield of Warren, Ohio State back; Tom Myers of Troy, Northwestern back; Bob Timmerlake of Franklin, Michigan back; Brig Owens, Cincinnati back.

Fred Rickey, a 145-pound senior, was decided 7-0. LaBounty reported the fact Rickey was not pinned helped the Tigers win the match.

Jim Montgomery was pinned in the 154 class. Joe List took his opponent 7-2 in the 165 pound.

Duke Fyffe, the lone contestant Circleville has in the 175 pound class, did not compete because of a knee injury. Circleville was forced to forfeit this match.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear
Dad, Clyde F. Davis, who passed away one year ago Dec. 6, 1962.
This day brings back and memories of our loved one to rest.
And those who think of him each
day.
Are the ones who loved him best.
No one knows the silent heartache.
Only those who have lost can tell.
Of the grief we bear in silence.
For the one we loved so well.
Friends may think we have forgotten him.
When they see us smile.
But little do they know
The sorrow that is behind a smile.
Sadly missed by his children and grandchildren.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear
Dad, Clyde F. Davis, who passed away one year ago Dec. 6, 1962.
This day brings back sad memories of our loved one gone to rest.
And those who think of him each
day.
Are the ones who loved him best.
No one knows the silent heartache.
Only those who have lost can tell.
Of the grief we bear in silence.
For the one we loved so well.
Friends may think we have forgot him.
When they see us smile.
But little do they know
The sorrow that is behind a smile.
Sadly missed by his children and
grandchildren.

GOP Leaders Hold Mum On Barry's 'I Lead' Claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leaders are not saying if they agree with Sen. Barry Goldwater's assessment that he holds the lead in the race for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

But there are reports of a move to put former Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the New Hampshire primary, and Goldwater says, "The whole country is in a position of flux."

Goldwater and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York have been holding their fire since the assassination of President John F. Kennedy Nov. 22. For the Arizona senator, who has not declared himself a candidate, and for Rockefeller, who has, this has meant a halt to political speechmaking.

The curtain of silence that descended in the Goldwater camp appeared to be lifting a bit Thursday.

In his first interview since Kennedy's death, the Arizona conservative said he thinks he remains in the lead, but "I feel that you can't say for sure."

"I'm in a position now of major reassessment," Goldwater said. "My people are out all over the country asking questions. I don't think my support has changed from what it was."

Next March's New Hampshire presidential primary is the nation's first. The Granite state race traditionally has been a testing ground for presidential hopefuls.

A report that Nixon's name may be entered was printed in the Washington Star.

Through an aide, Nixon said that he is not commenting on anything right now. Nixon has said he will not be a candidate in 1964.

A spokesman for Rockefeller said the governor "has suspended operations in New Hampshire and decided that during this period there will be no political comment or observations."

New Hampshire's Sen. Norris Cotton, who heads a committee to put Goldwater in the primary, has said he is delaying campaign plans until Goldwater indicates whether he is willing to run.

In his interview, Goldwater spoke highly of the abilities of President Johnson, a Democrat, and said it is too early to offer any comment on his performance.

"One of the reasons I suggested a moratorium was to give this man a chance," Goldwater said. "I like him, I think he has a chance to be a good president, a great president."

FBI Assassination Report Release To Be Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI's completed report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy will not be made public for at least a week and quite possibly until still later.

Justice Department officials now have the report. It will be delivered to President Johnson even though dozens of FBI agents still are pursuing the investigation, and then will be forwarded to the high-level investigating commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren.

The President has promised that the FBI findings will be made public, but officials said orderly procedure requires that the Warren commission have opportunity to study the bulky report before it is released. The Warren commission meets this afternoon. Whether it was to receive the report then was not known in advance.

The FBI is understood to have concluded that Lee Harvey Oswald, 24, ex-Marine and Marxist, planned and executed alone the Nov. 22 slaying in Dallas.

Warren has assured that the bipartisan body will reach beyond the official findings if necessary to clear up any questions that the FBI and six cooperating agencies have not answered to the commission's satisfaction.

Warren announced Thursday, after a 2½-hour commission meeting that Congress will be asked to arm the group with subpoena power. Congress is sure to respond quickly; legislation already is being drafted.

Machinery was in motion also to equip the commission with staff aides, offices and operating procedures.

The Warren group has full authority, under Johnson's executive order of last Friday which created it, to go beyond a mere evaluation of the FBI and other findings. The order empowers it to "conduct any further investigation it deems desirable."

Whether hearings will be held was not decided. Warren told reporters that none of the procedural questions had been settled finally.

Still to be resolved also was the question whether the White House will make public the FBI report before or after the commission studies and evaluates it.

Johnson promised that the findings would be made public in full, but did not say when, and White House press officers have been vague on the question.

Warren told newsmen after Thursday's meeting that the commission still was working somewhat in the dark in approaching what he called its "very sad and very solemn duty" because it had not received the FBI or any other government report.

Route 4 Resident Fined in City Court

Ira Reese, 67, Route 4, was fined $100 and costs in Circleville Municipal Court today by Judge Sterling M. Lamb.

Reese entered a plea of guilt to driving a car when he had no valid operator's license. Judge Lamb ordered $50 of the fine suspended and placed Reese on probation for three years.

Trapper Forfeits $24

Lee Edwin Sherman, Ashville, forfeited a $24 bond to Circleville Municipal Court for failure to have waterproof name tags on animal traps.

The charge was filed by Fred Schob, district game enforcement officer.

FBI Assassination Report Release To Be Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI's completed report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy will not be made public for at least a week and quite possibly until still later.

Justice Department officials now have the report. It will be delivered to President Johnson even though dozens of FBI agents still are pursuing the investigation, and then will be forwarded to the high-level investigating commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren.

The President has promised that the FBI findings will be made public, but officials said orderly procedure requires that the Warren commission have opportunity to study the bulky report before it is released. The Warren commission meets this afternoon. Whether it was to receive the report then was not known in advance.

The FBI is understood to have concluded that Lee Harvey Oswald, 24, ex-Marine and Marxist, planned and executed alone the Nov. 22 slaying in Dallas.

Warren has assured that the bipartisan body will reach beyond the official findings if necessary to clear up any questions that the FBI and six cooperating agencies have not answered to the commission's satisfaction.

Warren announced Thursday, after a 2½-hour commission meeting that Congress will be asked to arm the group with subpoena power. Congress is sure to respond quickly; legislation already is being drafted.

Machinery was in motion also to equip the commission with staff aides, offices and operating procedures.

The Warren group has full authority, under Johnson's executive order of last Friday

which created it, to go beyond a mere evaluation of the FBI and other findings. The order empowers it to "conduct any further investigation it deems desirable."

Whether hearings will be held was not decided. Warren told reporters that none of the procedural questions had been settled finally.

Still to be resolved also was the question whether the White House will make public the FBI report before or after the commission studies and evaluates it.

Johnson promised that the findings would be made public in full, but did not say when, and White House press officers have been vague on the question.

Warren told newsmen after Thursday's meeting that the commission still was working somewhat in the dark in approaching what he called its "very sad and very solemn duty" because it had not received the FBI or any other government report.
